

What Determines The Cost Of Auto Insurance

The cost of auto insurance coverage is based on a variety of factors.

The insurance cost is determined by the type of vehicle and its impending use. The more you drive, the higher may be the insurance cost.

Insurance price is also governed by location specific factors such as higher rates of vandalism, theft, and accidents.

Your driving record such as accidental history, claims history, etc. impacts the insurance premium. The better your record, the lower the cost of your auto insurance coverage.

Insurance providers also consider personal factors such as age of the drivers to calculate insurance cost.

The limits on your basic auto insurance, the amount of your deductible, and the types of coverage you opt also determine the insurance cost.
